XFAST – FULLY AUTOMATED SOFTWARE TESTING

REMOVE THE COMPLEXITY OF FEATURE AND SOFTWARE RELEASE TESTING FOR NETWORK HARDWARE

High-performance networks form the essential foundation of any business, facilitating operations and services in today's digitised landscape and driving advanced technologies like AI, IIOT, as well as IT/OT convergence. Consistent testing is key to maintain the performance and security of these networks. However, conducting manual in-house tests is a cumbersome task. XFAST alleviates this challenge while enhancing speed, precision, and overall quality.

CHALLENGES

- Failure to conduct network testing or delays in testing key updates (e.g. with critical security fixes) heightens the risk of incidents and security breaches
- Requirement for testing a specific network configuration, frequently hindered by the absence of a conducive testing environment
- Increasing network complexity due to new demands and security regulation
- Conducting tests is occupying highly skilled IT experts who could be deployed more effectively in valuable IT and digital projects
- Limited vendor support
- IT resources and budget constraints

OUR OFFERING

- Comprehensive testing of devices, features and functions for qualified software releases and upgrades
- Consideration of special requirements in your network (e.g. multi-vendor configurations)
- Specific environment testing for the vendor software, either on-site tests or in our XT³Lab
